Our December Action Question:
What actions can you take to support diversity in your relationships & inclusion in your social interactions?

The Humanity Project

Telling the Untold Story

Remain teachable.

Share what I learn.

Buy antiracist books.

Be an ally. Stand up and speak up!

Bring it to my work and others in my field.

Visit businesses owned by people of color.

Address microaggressions when they arise.

Continue to learn and invite others to join me.

Ask a lot of questions, like who is missing and why.

Seek more interaction outside my usual comfort zone.

Sharing the incredible things I am learning in this space.

Continue to have difficult conversations; plant a small seed.

Be cognizant of the words/vocabulary/figurative language/slang that I use.

Engage with groups where I can interact with people I wouldn't normally meet.

Educate myself so I can recognize and call out prejudice and assumption among those I know well.

Bring awareness to my family and friends through conversations, gentle questions, and cultural events.
